

Find the strength in the cross and tell the story

This should be the happiest days of our lives, having the ability to share the plan of salvation with others. (To make a commitment for visiting the lost, and finding a gentle way so they will not forget our Savior.) How does one remember...Repetition helps, and we need to find numerous ways to lead them to Jesus. There are many within our community starving for good spiritual nourishment and we need to feed them!

God has blessed us with eternal life, why can't we share this bounty with those who are hungry? (We've already studied and have our degree in being washed in the blood from redemption of sin.) How could we then not say...Words or share the truth to those who don't know the plan of salvation. So tell the story to your children/grandchildren, tell it to your coworkers, and tell it to your neighbors!

Sometimes, we must grit our teeth and find the strength in the cross and tell the story.

Thomas Foster and Ray House 2003