

Life is Love

In a deep thought to get my sprit on high,
Meditation on my mind, family dreams of great love makes me cry.

As I begin to thank God for all the great memories from this weekend,
One in memory in mind of crossing the finish with Steven.

Now uplifted to say that I could help,
And to say I got that finally under my belt.

But now to go but to give peace and love,
And to always give thanks to the almighty above.

Thank You Lord For the Love of Life.
