On Being A Mom

Your child brings home their child ~ congratulations, you're a grandmother
The silent prayer you said to God, when your child went out on their first date
"Look at this mommy" "I finally learned how to tie my own shoe strings 😊"
The warmth and relief you felt when your baby was handed to you after delivery
You notice the first movement within your womb (it's your child)
There's changes taking place in your body...yes, you're pregnant
The intimacy between you and your husband to make a baby
These are just a few cherished memories on being a mom
