

Things of Memory

As you were growing up, what did God place around you to help you remember? Think back to your childhood, and you are most likely to recall memories of these: Time spent with your mom, dad, brothers, sisters and all your friends with pleasant Memories of a trip to the lake, beach, or an exciting vacation to your grandparents!

Most of your childhood was spent near the house, or with friends down the street. Mom and dad set rules we had to follow and if we didn't there were consequences. If we threw a ball near the house and broke a window, we'd expect this to happen: They'd find out who was responsible then take action with the right consequences.

Once a speaker said, "A person remembers best those experiences with emotion." (If this statement is true?) Then, what experiences do you want to remember best? For both mom and dad, I will think about rolling hills, a lake, and trees in a forest. What will you remember? Things of memory can be either pleasant or unpleasant.

Ray House 2004