

What Is Love?

When you see someone special, what is it that attracts you?
Over time, your emotions are channeled by that attraction.
When you're joined as only God can provide in marriage,
Something occurs towards meeting each other's needs.
Through life's twists and turns you will both experience
Many ups and downs together...everything will be OK.

Remind each other, God has you together forever
And always remember the reality of what is love?

Ray House 2006