

When He Walks In

It's sad but true, we have become a church where one body part in Christ has no idea what the rest of the body around town is doing if it is idle, sick, or dying.

It is wonderful to hear, there's a church in town that is driving over to another part of town and knocking on doors, because the members from their church want to reduce the driving time and plant a congregation within a community.

Some congregations have an evangelistic zeal and some congregations do not. Those that do are to be commended; they make plans, organize, and take action to go out in the community and invite their neighbors to attend worship service. How do we challenge and encourage the brethren in a congregation who don't make plans, organize, and take action for those living right down their street?

If challenged, how many members would show up to go do some door knocking or simply hand out some flyers, if asked? Would it be 1 or 2 people? 10%? 75%? If a church had a good evangelism team, how many would there be on the team?

Let's read Joshua 1:16 "And they answered Joshua, saying, All that thou commandest us we will do, and whithersoever thou sendest us, we will go."

What should we do? And where shall we go? Let's start by giving something to your neighbors, next to the community near the church building, then the world. Remember you will not get a 2nd chance to make a 1st impression, When He Walks In.
