

When someone's heart is torn wide open

[On the day someone becomes a Christian] Their thoughts might not be of one day leaving the faith. One day, do you want to die a spiritual death? That is being separated from Jesus our Lord and Savior.

A forty-two year old poor lady decides to take in two abused children and somehow take care of them. The other ladies in the congregation think that's a bad decision and one day the poor lady stops attending. A fifty-three year old husband comes forward confessing his sin and asks for forgiveness about adultery. Many in the congregation gossip, so they place membership elsewhere and convert to a different faith.

How could something so beautiful like our Lord's body be corrupted with destruction from within?

Can your actions actually tear one away from the congregation where they have attended for years?

Can a brother or sister who is strong in the faith be driven away from God by the actions of others?

When someone's heart is torn wide open, the Devil has a great opportunity. And you may have caused it. How many members and their families have you helped destroy? Can you imagine this mountain range without Mt. Everest?
